SMITH, ELY TO PROTEST

Al to Try to Block Nomination
in New York; Peace Heard
in Louisiana

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(UP)— President Roosevelt's formal announcement of candidacy for Democratic renomination to the presidency is expected shortly from the White House.

Mr. Roosevelt probably will follow the precedent established by his predecessor and file formal consent in Ohio for selection of national convention delegates in his name. Former President Hoover filed such consent in 1932, the first presidential election in which Ohio's unique law prevailed. Sen.
William E. Borah, of Idaho, is the only Republican entered in Ohio
so far.

Name "Not Missing"—BF

Mr. Hoover did not enter his name in the Ohio preference ballotting. Ohio voters have two votes on their primary day, May 12. They elect delegates pledged to the candidate of their choice and one the same ballot indicate by name the individual they prefer for president. Final decision on entering Mr. Roosevelt's name in Ohio has not been reached. Sen.
William E. Borah, of Idaho, is the only Republican entered in Ohio
so far.

The "Stop Roosevelt" movement appears to lack aggressive Democratic leadership in Ohio. At least no statement have arisen there to challenge Mr. Roosevelt as he has been challenged in New York, Massachusetts, Georgia, Louisiana and California. Alfred E. Smith probably will bring White House-Tammany relations to showdown in New York City.

Smith is expected to seek election to the Democratic national convention as a district delegate.
If Tammany accepts Smith—a wigwag sacker—as one of its candidates the war will be on between Mr. Roosevelt and Manhattan political organization. The New York primary is April 7.

Former Gov. Joseph B. Ely will lead the Democratic Anti-New Deal crusade in Massachusetts.
Ely has proposed dispatch of an uninstructed delegation to the Democratic National convention.

Talmadge Muzzled?—BF

Gov. Eugene Talmadge is encountering difficulty in his effort to kidnap Georgia from the New Deal. The Georgia congressional delegation is bucking the governor and the larger newspapers of the state are beginning to fire at will on the young rebel. New Dealers are confident they can handle Talmadge.

The Louisiana Democratic organization still is counted outside the New Deal fold despite reports of peace talk on the delta. The latest threat of a bolt came from California. Upton Sinclair's Epic—end poverty in California—party still controls the California Democratic organization. Sinclair took charge in 1934 when he won the Democratic nomination for governor.

WOLF DONATES FEED FOR DISTRIBUTION FOR BIRDS

E. E. Wolf, operator of a feed store on E. Franklin-st., donated 100 pounds of feed to the Peikaway Farmer's and Sportsman's association Friday for distribution to game birds. The distribution will be in charge of Clarence Francis, game officer.

J. R. Wilson, one of Circleville's oldest active business men, observed his eightieth birthday anniversary Friday—by working in his home equipment store.

Borah Has a Quiet Lunch

While congratulatory messages poured in on him from Ohio and elsewhere anent his decision to enter the Ohio presidential primary, May 12, Senator William E. Borah, dashed off to the senate restaurant in Washington to enjoy a peaceful lunch hour by himself. At the moment he appears to be studying the bill of fare.

Franklin-Co Prosecutor Wants
Vote Buying Evidence

CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.—(UP)— Rev. Harold N. Geistweitz, pastor of Ninth Street Baptist Church, said today he would refuse to appear before a grand jury at Columbus to testify concerning charges that a state senator "sold" his vote in the parochial school aid fight.

Rev. Geistweitz denied that he made the charges at the convention of Ohio Pastors in Columbus, where he presided, declaring he merely read a newspaper account of statements made last spring by an Akron legislator.

To Lead Jobless

A chairman of the United lead some 21,000 hunger marchers on the capital at Topeka, Feb. 8. Born, who is a senior in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, says the march will be a peaceful one.

One of 12 Best

The picture also was included among the 12 nominated for the best film of the year and its director was a contender for the prize in his division of film work.
Winners will be announced March 6, at the academy's eighth annual banquet.

Victor McLaglen was the fourth honors in the actress' division were Elisabeth Bergner for "Escape Me Never," Claudette Colbert

DAVEY SLASHES THREE MILLIONS OFF MONEY BILL

Governor Says Serious Financial Problems to Face State
During Year

DEFICIT IS ANTICIPATED

Economy Only Solution; Relief
Pensions, Security Funds
Needed

COLUMBUS, Feb. 7.—(UP)— Governor Davey has vetoed more than $3,000,000 out of the $90,- 213,157 new appropriation bill for 1936, he announced today.

"This has not been done in any whimsical or petulant mood, but for most serious reasons that face
the state," the governor said.
He explained that the vetoes were necessary if the state is to have sufficient funds to provide for its necessary financial needs including old pensions and relief.

Far Over Revenue

If social security legislation now pending in the senate is finally enacted he said the total expenditure of government would probably be $3,000,000 in excess of anticipated revenues.

"If I had not kept the screws down tight last year and saved $7,000,000 cash in the bank," he said, "the state would right now be in a serious situation because of the $7,000,000 definitely earmarked for relief and the additional millions required for old age pensions."

The governor said he is still definitely opposed to new taxes
if they can be avoided.

"I believe this can be done if we follow the same course of economy with resolute purpose," he added.

Including his vetoes in the original appropriations bill the governor said that his cutting of the new bill brings to approximately $10,000,000 the amount he has saved by the veto power.

The governor did not make public the items vetoed because he has not yet completed his work on the bill. He has until midnight Saturday to sign and file the bill.

The first appropriations bill totalled $97,657,653, of which the governor deleted items totalling $8,785,658, leaving $88,871,995.

But because he had vetoed items providing for many essential services, and there was no legal authority for restoring these items, a new bill was necessary. The legislature after months of wrangling finally passed a bill carrying $90,- 213,157, which did not take into consideration $1,793,554 provided for in other special bills.

CLASSIC COLUMNS SAVED

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Three of eight Corinthian columns used on the Mayor Sargent house, one of the first residences in the New Haven colony, have been salvaged by J. Frederick Kelly, collector.
The New Haven Colony Historical Society, the Yale School of Fine Arts, and the New England Antiquarian Society in Boston each received one of the rare columns.

1924 ROBBERY SOLVED

STEBENVILLE, O.—A robbery which occurred 12 years ago was solved with the arrest of James Connors, 32. At his trial, Connors admitted he was intoxicated at the time of his arrest and must have "talked too much."
He followed with a guilty plea and was sentenced to a term of one to seven years in Ohio penitentiary.

MAN, 60, STARTS GROWING

SYDNEY, N. S. W.—The case of a 60-year-old Sydney man who started growing again a few years ago and shows no sign of stopping, is baffling Australian medical authorities.

Giant Airplane With Six-Hour Flight With Fierce Southern Sleet Storm

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 7.— (UP)—A giant air liner and the worst sleet storm of the winter fought a six hour duel over two states last night.

The plane won. If it had lost, six persons probably would have been killed.

The passengers were:
C. T. Hubbell, Albany, N. Y.
Mrs. Charles Fettech, New York City.

Dr. Joseph Weinred, Jacksonville, Fla.
E. F. Kenny, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Pilot Freddie Cann.
Bob Minnick, Atlanta, Ga., co-pilot.

Riding a beam of the Pensacola light house, Pilot Cann brought his two-motored eastern air lines ship down safely on a water-covered field. He was white-faced, tense. He had battled the storm north from Jacksonville to Charlestown, S. C., back to Jacksonville, then across Florida to Pensacola. He landed with enough gasoline for less than an hour of flying.

Officials Hear Voices

The flight was almost as agonizing for air line officials and short wave radio officers. For two hours they heard Cann's and Min-nick's voices breaking across crackling static demanding directions and confirming instructions.
Then, suddenly, the radio went dead and tragedy seemed certain.
A few minutes later RCA's Palm Beach station flashed this message to ships at sea:

"Eastern airlines reports ship
34 lost off coast northern Florida or southern Georgia. Have no position but is over water and gas running low. Please be on lookout and report to this station."

Meanwhile, Pilot Cann, his radio dead and his visibility zero, had had recourse to desperation. He had turned his plane westward, hoping to reach the outskirts of the storm. The beam of the light house cut across the night just as he was about to cut in his emergency fuel supply—enough for almost an hour of flying.

The plane was bound north for Newark from Miami. When he reached Jacksonville, weather reports indicated the storm as closing in, but Cann thought he could make Charlestown. He took off at 5:20 p. m. yesterday.

En route the storm reached the plane, encircling it with swirling, powdery snow and sleet. Over the

these committees were given to Charles Lee, district supervisor of the State Farm Bureau Federa-

MRS. MAGRUDER TO KEEP POST?

Oberlin Woman Voted Confidence of State Board

COLUMBUS, Feb. 7.—(UP)—
Mrs. Luella Magruder of Oberlin, whose resignation as head of the state charities division was asked by Governor Davey, today had a vote of confidence from the charities division advisory board.

The board endorsed Mrs.
Magruder's order to trustees of the Lorain county children's home that at least two social workers must be employed at the home instead of one.

The governor had termed Mrs.
Magruder's action a "violation of a governmental principle." She refused to resign.

Mrs. Magruder today declined to comment on reports that she would be permitted to retain her position. After a conference with the governor yesterday, she said, smilingly, that any further statement would come from the governor's office.

The governor also declined to comment, saying he was "too busy with the appropriations bill to act on any other matter at this time."

FARM BUREAU, LIVESTOCK DIRECTORS TO ORGANIZE

and the Pickaway Livestock asso-

Rubinoff's Fiancee?

If current rumors are true,
Miss Joyce Lang, above, pretty telegraph girl of New York City, will be able to hear Rubinoff and His Violin more often than radio listeners. Although permitting the cameraman to photograph her at home,
Miss Lang refused to comment on her reported engagement to David Rubinoff, inset, of the radio, screen and concert platform.

MAN, 89, ESTRANGED FROM HIS WIFE, 22, KILLS STEP-FATHER

KEARNEY, Mo., Feb. 7.—(UP)— Zenius F. Milburn, 89, estranged from his 22-year-old wife, today shot and killed her stepfather, Jacob Fiscus, 60.

Fiscus was slain with a shotgun. Milburn was sitting complacently by the body when Marshal Joseph Thompson of Kearney arrived to arrest him.

"I had to do it," Milburn told Thompson. He said the shooting climaxed several days of quarreling over financial matters.

The "May and December" marriage of Milburn and the former Miss Ezora Thomas founded within a few months. Mrs. Milburn went to live with relatives in Independence. A son born to her after the separation will be a year old in April.

Fiscus and his wife, leaving their daughter in Independence, moved to the Milburn home last November. Neighbors said the household was disturbed frequently by disputes.

FAIRFIELD - CO'S DEMOCRATS AID DR. J. M. LANTZ

Committee Votes Wholehearted Indorsement for Congressional Candidate

LANCASTER, Feb. 7.—The Fairfield-co Democratic executive committee has voted indorsement of the candidacy of Dr. James M. Lantz of Lancaster for the nomination to congress succeeding Mell G. Underwood.

Dr. Lantz ran second to Underwood in a field of six candidates two years ago. He has announced his candidacy and already has started to visit party leaders in Pickaway, Ross, Hocking, and Perry-co's, the other four parts of the 11th Ohio district.

Mr. Lantz' indorsement was signed by C. H. Sexauer, chairman of the Fairfield-co executive committee, and a number of other committeemen.

The indorsement reads:

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Fairfield-co Democratic Executive committee, upon the full deliberation of all its members does hereby bestow upon the candidacy of Dr. James E. Lantz its unqualified, unreserved, and plenary indorsement; being convinced that Dr. Lantz, because of his distinguished record of public service, military and civic; because of his extensive study and comprehensive understanding of the problems now confronting this nation, is the citizen within the Eleventh Congressional District most capable and best qualified to discharge the duties of Member of Congress therefrom; and by reason of his popularity and the heretofore demonstrated confidence accorded him, is undeniably the most likely member of the Democratic Party successfully to contest election to this most important position.

Wife Preservers

Almost all kinds of stewing or boiling should be done with the gas burner turned low; the results will be better. Rapid cooking often spoils food. The proper method is to start the boiling over a single burner with full flame, and when the boiling point is reached turn the flame very low, or transfer the utensil to the simmerer, if you have one.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR NATURAL "BULK"

Needed to Correct Constipation*

Most people recognize the seriousness of constipation. But too often they dose themselves with strong cathartics that often actually lead to chronic constipation.

The natural way to check common constipation is to correct the condition which causes it—usually, insufficient "bulk" in meals.

How can you get "bulk"? Fruits and vegetables have some. Bran has more. The most popular product of this kind is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

This delicious cereal is a wholesome food. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk." If not relieved, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN gives you gentle internal exercise. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LUTHERAN MEN ENJOY EVENING OF MERRIMENT

George Griffith in Charge of Entertaining Program;
Plan Birthday Fete

Another outstanding session of Trinity Lutheran Brotherhood is history, the first semi-monthly meeting for February having been held in the parish house last evening.

The meeting was opened by the singing of the "Brotherhood Song," after which Rev. G. L. Troutman read the First Psalm and offered the prayer. This being followed by the entire brotherhood singing "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

The business session was brief, immediately after which M. R. Klingensmith and his committee of eight members served sauerkraut, weiners and coffee.

Meeting again called to order, George C. Griffith was introduced as director of the evening's entertainment, which was a novelty program and was put on without any previous preparation.

The first number was a Race Track skit, the parts being taken by Mr. Griffith, Carl C. Leist and H. E. Betz, Mr. Betz giving the betting tips, which in each instance proved disastrous to those putting up the stakes. The skit was realistic and created much mirth.

"Family Troubles"

"Family Troubles" was the subject of the next number, the actors being Charles Weidinger, as Mrs. Backbiter; Charles L. Mack as her much abused husband and Luther Bower as the lie-detector salesman, who duped Mrs. Backbiter into buying one of his contraptions in order that she might test out the truthfulness of her husband, which in turn proved to be her undoing. This number was exceptionally interesting and all parts were well characterized.

"The Music Goes Round and Round" furnished the basis for the next skit; E. E. Wolf taking the part of Prof. DeWolfe, with the various scenes being: the office of one of the biggest horse importers in the country; the city leading insurance agency; the P. W. A. Rural Sanitation Office and the office of a big lumber broker, the leading parts in each of these scenes being taken by E. E. Wolf, J. D. Hummel, Frank H. Palm and M. R. Klingensmith.

Mr. Wolfe as the horse broker turns musical, goes abroad to complete his musical training, returns to this country and sets up a studio in the Old Coliseum, formerly his place while in business of years before. His novel advertisement, which in his wily way he succeeded in inserting in the society columns of the local papers, attracted Hummel, Palm and Klingensmith, all of whom have always desired to be musical and who in turn apply at Prof. DeWolfe's studio and finally decide on taking the "Three Lesson Course," guaranteed to make them accomplished musicians.

The climax of this novelty number was the manner in which Mr. DeWolfe imparted musical knowledge to these unschooled applicants, and of their ability to thoroughly understand after but one period of instruction.

Carl C. Palm delightfully entertained with his novelty piano music. A very realistic scene from real life was next presented, the location being the Circleville Police Station: William McCrady playing the role of Chief of Police; C. W. Helvering the sergeant and Gladden Troutman the culprit. Every part in this little drama was exceptionally well characterized.

Work Trial Held

The final number of the program was a mock trial. This trial was based on a real automobile accident that occurred at North ridge road, about two and one-half years ago, fictitious names being used instead of names of the real persons implicated.

E. C. Ebert took the part of the plaintiff in the case, with Carl C. Leist as his attorney; George Himrod as defendant, with George

Griffith as his attorney; with M. R. Klingensmith a S. Bloomfield garageman as the only witness for the plaintiff, and Roy Stout, a N. Court-st resident, as the only witness for the defense. J. D. Hummel sat as judge and the entire brotherhood served as the jury.

After the arguments were made by both the plaintiff's and defendant attorneys and the charge was delivered by the judge, the case was submitted the jury and the ballot showed the entire Brotherhood except one lone member, voting exactly as the Common Pleas Court of this county decided the case.

So down into the records goes another outstanding meeting of Trinity Brotherhood.

The next session will be held on February 20 and will be a Washington-Lincoln Birthday party in charge of J. D. Hummel.

MT. PLEASANT MEN OFFICERS TUESDAY

Officers will be elected for the year at the regular meeting of the Mt. Pleasant Brotherhood to be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 11. Supper will be served at 7 o'clock. CIRCVILLE COUNCIL
OFFICIALS: The financial difficulty in which you find yourselves is indeed disheartening. There is little you can do about it except watch your nickles and dimes and be careful of every expenditure you make. Your recent action in settling long unpaid accounts with merchants physicians, funeral directors and others is to be commended even though it did reduce the city treasury to less than $200. Employees must do the best they can to make ends meet. It is a situation in which many Ohio cities have found themselves in the last several years, but you must put your shoulders to the wheel to do the best you can under the circumstances.

CIRCUITEER.
TO AUTOISTS
FRIENDS: The first red pin, designating a traffic death, was placed on the county accident map in the sheriff's office this week. Last year 16 persons lost their lives in highway accidents in this county and scores were injured. Drive carefully, obey highway rules and help to keep the highway toll for 1936 small.

CIRCUITEER.
BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION
WORKERS: I commend you on your work during the last year. You and your reliable corps of officers deserve praise for the way you took care of your share of the needy. I know that during the coming year, having re-elected Mrs. B. T. Hedges, your capable president, and most of your other officers, the organization will continue its splendid work.

CIRCUITEER.
UTILITY BUS DRIVERS
GENTLEMEN: Congratulations on your splendid record of having completed a year without an accident chargeable to negligent driving. It is a pleasure to congratulate you. These days pilots of lumbering buses and trucks usually are blamed for all traffic mishaps.

CIRCUITEER.
TO LUTHER LEAGUE
DEAR MEMBERS: Addition of 50 new members to your organization is something of which you should be very proud. I congratulate you on your efforts and enthusiasm in the membership contest conducted the last three months during which this group of young people joined your league. The attendance of 82 at your February meeting far exceeds your former average attendance of 35 and 40 at monthly meetings. I hope your organization remains as active since your contest has closed, and continues to grow. I wish you success in the presentation of your play, Feb. 24 and 25.

CIRCUITEER.
CITY OFFICIALS
GENTLEMAN: Circleville has an ordinance requiring residents to clear their sidewalks of snow and ice. Forget the fear of making "someone mad" and enforce the law. Some residents are too "lazy" to clear their own walks and too "tight" to give a needy laborer the price of a loaf of bread to shovel their snow. If you think you will make some residents mad by assessing them a fine, how do you imagine residents of the street feel when they do the "highland fling" over those icy walks several times a day. I would suggest you read up on the ordinance and take some action.

CIRCUITEER.
TO F.O.E. LEADERS
EAGLES: Your donation of $5 to purchase feed for game birds, left with little or no nourishment as a result of the heavy snow blanket, is timely, and well received by county sportsmen. Reports have come from many parts of the state concerning loss of game bird life because of lack of food. Clarence Francis and the sportsman's association will see that proper food is obtained and distributed in the right places. It is actions of this sort that assures the continued success of your organization.

CIRCUITEER.
TO "RUMOR" SPREADERS
GOSSIPERS: It has been called to my attention that many of the recent reports concerning deaths of local residents have been started by a group of men who gather in a local restaurant to discuss the doings of the day. There are few things more malicious and more ungentlemanly than starting a rumor concerning someone's death. At least three times in the last month it has been necessary that a careful check be made to determine veracity of such reports. Persons responsible are apparently unaware of the law concerning such activities. There is a drastic penalty against a person convicted of starting and spreading false rumors.

With All My Heart
BY SARA CHRISTY
READ THIS FIRST:
Thora Dahl, alone in New York, is seeking a position through an employment agency. She obtains an address in the country, of Selwyn Marsh, an eccentric gentleman, seeking a housekeeper. Taking a train to Brookville, Thora walks to Fair Acres and reaches the Marsh home. Thora meets Marsh and he agrees to give her a trial. She is to replace a Mrs. Myron who is going on a long vacation. Mrs. Myron cautions Thora about losing her head over Marsh, a widower.
(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)
CHAPTER 6
"I SAID YOU were sensible," Mrs. Myron answered contentedly when Thora insisted there was no danger of her losing her head over Selwyn Marsh. "It's exactly what I meant in the first place, it wouldn't do you a mite of good. And you know I told you that no woman ever could put up with him... that is, if she was tied to him. I know what I'm talking about too. And now, suppose I show you around."
For some reason, Mrs. Myron appeared to think there was no question but that Thora would relieve her of her duties in the very near future. She was planning to go west, to visit a niece for a time, and clearly was anxious to be on her way. For the present, Thora would occupy a pleasant bedroom at the rear of the house. Eventually, she would move across the hall into the housekeeper's suite which boasted a small sitting room and private bath.
The new candidate was much pleased with the interior of the house. It was roomy and furnished everywhere in excellent taste. Mrs. Myron made a thorough-going conductor, exhibiting all the apartments, bed and linen supplies, keeping up a running fire of informative details.
Katie would make up her own rooms, but Thora would do all the ordering of supplies and check the bills. Mr. Marsh seldom questioned expenditures, but he insisted upon accounts being kept in orderly fashion and was quick to pounce upon any discrepancies. Ted, the boy, or Pat would be ready at any time to operate the vacuum cleaner, wash windows and do any task too heavy for the maids. One of the latter attended to the upstairs work, for the most part. That was Nellie. Her companion, Jane, tidied the lower floor, served in the dining room, or assisted Katie in the kitchen if needed.
"They're pretty good girls," Mrs. Myron admitted. "But you have to keep right after them all the time."
Both Nellie and Jane were encountered during the tour, and made acquainted with their new supervisor. Each made civil return to Thora's friendly greeting and stared.
Katie Donahue, the ample-bosomed Irish cook, was more effusive when Thora was introduced into her shining domain.
"Sure, Miss Dahl, we'll be getting along fine together," was her decision, after a candid gaze at the newcomer. "And if Pat... he's me old man... goes givin' you any of his lip, leave him to me."
Thora did not encounter Mr. Marsh again but she repeated her protest to Mrs. Myron that she would report for duty the following morning. The two of them were standing on the veranda as Thora explained, once

"Sure, we'll be setting along fine together."
Steele deepened her feeling of uneasiness. For a neighbor, "Dottie" seemed to exert a recognized influence over the Marsh household. It had been indicated by Mr. Marsh's casual reference to the "forks," as well as by Mrs. Myron's more pointed remarks.
Preparations for leaving the city were simple and occupied little of Thora's time. She had thought of calling upon Miss Taggart and telling her that she had secured the position at Fair Acres, but concluded it might be better to wait and see what happened. If everything went all right, she could drop Miss Taggart a line... repeat the offer of a fee. On the other hand, she might have to report a fate similar to that of the other applicants. Unless Mr. Marsh would furnish her with a reference.
She laughed to herself at the absurdity of that notion.
In order to divert her mind from tomorrow and its possibilities, she decided to treat herself to a gallery seat at the movies. At least, she had some prospects now. It gave her a slightly reckless feeling.
When the housekeeper-elect alighted from the train at Brookville the following morning, her alert blue eyes fell upon a youth lounging against the station wall, his hands in his pockets. He came forward at once, clutching off his cap, and Thora recognized him as the boy who had offered her a ride.
"Are you Miss Dahl?"
"Yes... And you must be Ted."
"Yeah. The boss sent me over to get you and your things. Mind if you ride in the truck? You didn't want to yesterday," he grinned.
"That was because you forgot to tell me that you were going to Mr. Marsh," Thora laughed.
"Didn't your trunk come?" Ted was looking about inquiringly.
"I've nothing but these two bags." "Okay. Let's have 'em."

By LOGAN CLENEDING, M. D.
WE HAVE known for several years now that the cause of the common cold is, in all probability, what is known as a "filterable virus," but only recently have we had authoritative and scientific assurance that that virus has been actually isolated and grown in culture.
Filterable viruses are a group of pathogenic agents so small, or of such nature, that they cannot be seen under the microscope. Again, unlike other germs, they cannot be grown upon ordinary media made up of material which is nutritious but dead, but have to be grown upon living tissue culture. The culture most frequently used is the embryonic tissues of unborn animals. It is upon such culture that the virus of the common cold has been grown. With this culture colds have been produced in volunteers so that we are as certain as conformity to scientific standards can make us, that the actual virus has been cultivated. It is to be hoped that with this virus we will be able to solve a great many of the problems of immunity in the common cold, and also to produce a vaccine against it.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

America's prison problem is becoming steadily worse. There are more prisoners now than ever in the nation's history—1935 having boosted the total by an alarming figure.
Penologists say that Americans approach the problem with the wrong attitude. Instead of getting at the causes of crime, Americans raise a hysterical cry to convict people. And when the people are convicted there is a sadistic tendency to force dire punishments on them. Thus, bitterness against society rises, and crime increases.
Devil's islands, such as Alcatraz in San Francisco harbor, with their complete isolation, simply enrage and craze men—as observe the recent uprising. The federal government suppressed all the facts concerning that "strike," but enough leaked out for one to envisage the futility that exists there, and the harsh measures that are used to put down the protests. Perhaps it would be better to execute men at once rather than to submit them to horrible punishments.
OTHER MANIFESTATIONS
It took the slaying of Richard Loeb in Illinois' Stateville prison to disclose conditions there. What is true of Stateville is true of many other prisons.
The majority of prisoners are young men. Deprived of normal sexual associations, they sink to vile depths.
Penologists close their eyes in horror when they relate how thousands of young men—who could be redeemed as useful citizens if common sense were used—were sent to close confinement with depraved men. In the end, we turn loose upon our communities ruined and maddened men. They run amuck not upon their unfortunate fellows in a prison but upon entire communities.
CHAIN GANGS
Nor have chain gangs and sweat boxes (torture chambers) been wiped out. More prisoners ever suffer their torture in the south.
When 20 negro prisoners, locked in a cage on wheels on which they are moved from place to place, bourn to death recently in the south, there was hardly a murmur. The horror of it all is that such tragic conditions are taken for granted now.
LASH
In Canada recently some prisoners complained. They were "quitted" with the lash.
And a 20-year-old inmate on trial for a recent outbreak in the Massachusetts state prison at Charlestown told of a "blue room" where men are kept on bread and water for 10 days at a time.
At best, prison diet is insufficient to keep a man in health, especially young men, who need plenty of tissue-building food.
All this in the year 1936!
SOVIET SYSTEM
Some American penologists would like to try the Soviet prison system in the United States.

Prisoners go home to their families, regularly, under supervision. Their sexual associations remain the same. They remain normal men. They do not become beasts.
Nor, in prison, are the men kept within narrow confines, with insufficient work. They are put to work in co-operatives. They become regular employees of these co-operatives, sharing in their earnings. With self-respect and responsibility, they regain their former status in society.
JUSTICE DEFEATED
In the United States inequitable administration of the laws defeats justice. Money does count. As seen in the Illinois state prison it counts even in the penitentiary.
Perhaps, in the first place, lawyers ought not to become judges. Lawyers have little contact with humanity. Crime cannot be cured by law or technicalities. Probably, in the future, commissions composed of men specially trained to understand the human mind and social problems will adjudge the erring.
Until then, crime is likely to increase, the public will become more sadistic and unfortunates will undergo worse tortures—with no benefit to anybody, and everlasting shame to all.
In the end perhaps men and women will see that economic and social maladjustments may have something to do with crime. Then, we may look back upon this as a dark age, which we shall try to erase from memory.

Marian Martin Pattern

Sooner or later a girl's invited to parties, and then—what to wear? This tiny tot's mother has solved the party-frock problem with this adorably be-ruffled model of dotted swiss, which is equally becoming for a wee maiden of two, or her ten-year-old sister. Ruffled sleeves that flare prettily in childish animation, three pert bows that add distinction, and a center panel that's cut in one piece with the pointed yoke and bodice to lighten mother's sewing task—all make this pattern worth repeating. Minus one pair of festive ruffles, the frock might even be a successful play-time or school style, fashioned of washable cotton. Batiste or starched organdy, are other "party" choices. Panties are included. Complete, Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9770 may be ordered only in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6 requires 2½ yards 36 inch fabric.

Simple Patches Make Pansy Quilt

PATTERN 5264

Pansies, whose velvety softness holds so much appeal for young and old, are the inspiration of a colorful quilt which you can do quickly in applique. Simple in form—the entire flower one piece—the patches are easy to apply. It's a grand way to use up scraps, for each flower may be of different color. Then, with easy outline, stitch, embroider flower edges and center markings for a very lifelike effect. Tones of yellow and purple will make it realistic.

the community house was opened by the president, Mrs. James Trimmer, with a short business session.

Plans were discussed for the annual all-day meeting in March and the following committees were appointed—nominating, Mrs. Montford Kirkwood, chairman, Miss Lola Woolever and Mrs. Ida Hussey; dinner committee for meeting, Mrs. Bertha Walker, chairman, Mrs. Abbie Gusman, and Miss Blanche Ryan.

The program was presented under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Long. After the devotionals Mrs. Long read a poem entitled, "Our Missions," and Mrs. Trimmer read a story, "Miracle Grain."

The fields were represented by Miss Nelle McCollister, China; Mrs. Abbie Gusman, Africa; Miss Ryan, Philippine Islands; Mrs. Bertha Walker, Japan; Mrs. J. R. Kirkpatrick, Home Islands.

The thankoffering service in charge of Mrs. Hussey concluded the meeting.

Menu Hint

Pork Tenderloins, Broiled
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Apple-Celery Salad
Steamed Ginger Pudding
Foamy Sauce Coffee

Today's Recipes

Steamed Ginger Pudding—One-third cup shortening, one-half cup sugar, two eggs, one and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one and one-half teaspoons ginger, one-half cup milk, one-fourth cup preserved ginger. Cream the shortening and sugar, add the well-beaten eggs the sifted dry ingredients alternately with the milk, and steam in a buttered mold for one hour. Serve warm with any preferred sauce.

Foamy Sauce—One-half cup butter, one cup confectioner's sugar, one egg, one tablespoon cream, one-half teaspoon vanilla. Cream the butter and sugar, add the beaten egg and cream with vanilla, and stir, over hot water till heated, no longer.

Uses Shoe Horn

"My little girl's rubbers were hard to put on till I tried a shoe horn. If children were taught how to use a shoe horn for this purpose and kept one at school, there would be less grief for the teacher," a mother suggests.

Did You Buy A Duck?

A splendid way to use up left-over duck is to pick fragments from bone and cut fine. Mix with a small amount of dressing and gravy. Scoop out six tart apples, sprinkle inside with a tablespoon of sugar. Fill with the duck, dot with butter and bake in a moderate oven until the apples are tender, about 45 minutes. Serve piping hot with a garnish of currant jelly and slices of crisply fried sweet potatoes.

What this country needs is a Townsend plan under which more towns will plan to send reckless drivers to jail.

What of Major Bowes? Downey on New Program

Question of Personal Popularity Rises Concerning Leader of Sunday Hour; Noted Tenor Started With Whiteman

A question asked the other day reveals a trend of thought prevalent in recent weeks. Here it is: "Is Major (of what) Bowes losing some of his popularity?"

Most persons who set their dials on WLW Sunday about 6 o'clock to be certain they will have the proper place when 8 o'clock comes are really pleased with the amateur programs, but many others are rather disgusted with the "I'm a Singer" program. "This is Major Bowes week," or something of that sort recalled a half dozen times during the evening.

WATCH BENNY ALLEN—

Mark next Wednesday very plainly on your calendar. It will bring together Jack Benny and Fred Allen in the battle of the year. Benny is the guest on Allen's already hilarious program. The program will revolve about a feud between the Ebenezer Benny and the Jack Allens clans. You'll be sorry if you miss it.

Morton Downey, celebrated radio tenor, who joins the Evening in Paris program as a permanent feature beginning with the broadcast of Monday, Feb. 17, will find it easy to accustom himself to the night club atmosphere that the program attempts to recreate. Downey appeared as night club entertainer in swanky spots of many capitals throughout the world.

Downey replaces Odette Myrtil, singing Parisienne, and Milton Watson, tenor, on the program which is broadcast each Monday over an NBC-WJZ network at 8:30 p. m., EST. Mark Warnow's orchestra and the Pickens Sisters will continue as usual.

Downey was a singing saxophone player in Paul Whiteman's S. S. Leviathan Band 17 years ago. Five years ago he turned to radio.

NOTES—Jessica Dragonette will be off the air for five weeks' vacation after her Feb. 29 broadcast. . . . But Jessica will be back; she's just signed a new 32-week contract. . . . Four famous scientists—Dr. Albert Einstein, Guglielmo Marconi, Robert A. Milliken and Sir William Bragg—will be heard Tuesday evening, Feb. 11. . . . NBC-WJZ. . . . Same network will give four plays on consecutive Thursdays on two novels by Alexandre Dumas. . . . "The Three Musketeers" will be basis for one-hour dramas, Feb. 20 and 27. . . . "Man in Iron Mask" basis for same length stories, March 5 and 12. . . . The Republicans touch off another big gun in the 1936 campaign when Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan talks on air from Lincoln's day dinner in New York, Feb. 12, of course. . . . The ceremony of the sailing of the new Queen Mary, super-liner, from England to the U. S. will be broadcast May 27. . . . The town of Waters, Ark., wants to change its name to Pine Ridge, tag of the mythical town which is locale for Lum and Abner of the air waves.

Monkey Sentenced to Die

LONDON.—A monkey which, among many other accomplishments, can write its name in three languages, but is unfortunately addicted to drink, has been condemned to death at the London Sessions. In a drunken rage it attacked and injured a boy.

Tom Shibe Is Ill

BASEBALL men were concerned over the serious illness of Thomas S. (Tom) Shibe, above, president of the Philadelphia Athletic since 1922. Following a relapse suffered at Mt. Plymouth, Fla., Mr. Shibe returned to Philadelphia on the advice of physicians.

Now! LET ME GIVE YOU A TIP!

I'VE never worked in any hotel where the management tried so hard to make it your home away from home.

Four cars taken at the door by an expert garage attendant. Yours is one of 700 comfortable rooms—each with bath and shower, running ice water, full length mirror and bed head reading lamp. You're at the center of Baltimore's business and social activities. You enjoy characteristic Maryland cuisine in any of four distinct restaurants. And the rate—from $3.00 single.

About This
And That
In Many Sports

WHAT OF TOURNAMENT?

Can you name the probable winner of the county basketball tournament?—Many will say Ashville, others will say New Holland, while Williamsport, Scioto-twp and Monroe-twp all have their supporters. Ashville's victory over New Holland on the west-county court boosts the backers of the Kaubermen ***

BOTH SUFFER LOSSES

The outstanding teams, as we see it, are Ashville and New Holland, although surprises are possible, and probable in the county meet—Both these teams have suffered blows that may hurt. Ashville has lost Henry Steinbrook as fine a guard as there is in the county through too many semesters in school, and Chuck Ater, battling New Holland guard, has turned in his uniform—Bet your nickles Ater will be in the lineup for the tournament ***

Babb Likes Work

Selection of Kroger Babb as tournament referee is popular in most parts of the county—Babb will be working his third county tourney and there has never been argument in either—The Wilmington official is one of those boys who insist they be given free rein over the doings on the floor—He does not like to work with another whistle-blower, claiming too many referees spoil the ball game ***

CARNERA LEAVES IL DUCE

Primo Carnera finds fighting in the United States is preferable to gunning in Ethiopia—Da Preem was in Mussolini's army long enough for medics to discover he had satchel feet or something like that, whereupon he was excused—He started right back for Uncle Sam's land to carry on his private war at a little more profit than under Il Duce ***

HASSETT TO NEWARK

Columbus Red Birds can put it into their little green book that Bud Hassett will not do any first basing on the Mount-st greensward this summer—The Yankees have sent Hassett to the Newark farm—He'll probably die a minor leaguer if he waits to take Lou Gehrig's place on the initial hasek ***

Lou Riggs Helps Reds Leave Coal-Hole

CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.—Showing his gratitude for being purchased out of slavery in the St. Louis Cardinals' chain gang, Lew Riggs has helped the lowly Reds to fight their way out of the cellar and find a place in the sun.

The story of third baseman Riggs, who faces his sophomore year in the majors with promise of a brilliant career ahead, might be like that of many others in the Cardinals' organization had it not been for Larry MacPhail, general manager of the Reds.

It's Just Too Bad!
Riggs, a star in the minors, still was not deemed good enough to supplant Pepper Martin at third base for the Cards. There are many others in the minors today, who might be major leaguers but for the fact that they are Cardinals' property and must go playing in the bushes until established stars on the St. Louis team ware. That's their hard luck.

When Riggs was at the Columbus Cardinal farm, however, he was spotted by MacPhail, and when the latter left Columbus to become general manager of the Reds, he bought Riggs for $24,000. Native of North Carolina (he was born at Mebane, April 22, 1910) Riggs' baseball career started at the University of North Carolina where he was a teammate of Burgess Whithead, now second baseman of the Giants. Frank Rickey, Cardinals' scout, picked up both young men in 1930. Riggs was sent to the Cardinals' farm at Shawnee, Okla., after being graduated. He was an Alpha Tau Omega, by the way.

Playing 36 games at Shawnee, he hit .356, and though his fielding was not as good as his batting, he was promoted the same season to St. Joseph, Mo. In 1931 he continued his climb upward, reporting to Columbus. He might still be at Columbus, or with another of the numerous Cardinal farm teams had not MacPhail bought him for the Reds.

No Chance Too Hard
The young Scotch-Irishman, with a pug nose and a weakness for good clothes and tasty food, swings from the left side of the plate, and with telling effect. His freshman batting average was .278 and he has shown steady improvement. Though 31 errors were charged against him at third base he led all third basemen in the number of assists, with 269, and that helps to explain those mischances. Riggs simply went after everything hit between third and second.

Meanwhile his friend Whitehead, with whom he competed for the shortstop job at North Carolina, also has escaped the Cardinal system, through a trade, and this year becomes the second baseman of the Giants.

Will She Win?

SHARKEY EXPECTED TO WIN BOSTON CONTEST

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—(UP)—An 18 pound weight advantage is expected to carry Jack Sharkey, the former heavyweight champion, to victory in his 10-round bout with Tony Shucco tonight at Boston garden.

In fine fettle for the second leg of a comeback campaign, Sharkey, 33, appeared too hefty for Shucco. Despite the recent burlesque in which Eddie (Unknown) Winston of Holyoke was suspended by the state boxing commission after Sharkey had twice "kayoad" him in three rounds, a sizeable house, is expected tonight.

A shipment of 50 mattresses from Wilmington for distribution through the County Centralized relief agency was expected to arrive at the warehouse Friday, D. H. Marcy, supervisor, announced. Pickaway-co office of the National Reemployment Service has scores of registrants' cards in its files. In a general way, the combined talents of this group of the citizenry extend over a wide range of agricultural, industrial and mercantile endeavor. Despite this, the local NRS staff occasionally experiences difficulty locating a person whose qualifications meet the requirements outlined by private industry seeking workers. When no qualified applicant is available in this county or in neighboring ones, an appeal for assistance is made to the state headquarters office in Columbus. All specifications are set forth in a bulletin which is dispatched to other offices in the state. Ordinarily, an applicant with the necessary qualifications is located quickly and he is referred immediately thereafter to the prospective employer.

SMITH, ELY TO PROTEST

Al to Try to Block Nomination
in New York; Peace Heard
in Louisiana

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's formal announcement of candidacy for Democratic renomination to the presidency is expected shortly from the White House.

Mr. Roosevelt probably will follow the precedent established by his predecessor and file formal consent in Ohio for selection of national convention delegates in his name. Former President Hoover filed such consent in 1932, the first presidential election in which Ohio's unique law prevailed. Sen. William E. Borah, of Idaho, is the only Republican entered in Ohio so far.

Name "Not Missing"—BF

Mr. Hoover did not enter his name in the Ohio preference balloting. Ohio voters have two votes on their primary day, May 12. They elect delegates pledged to the candidate of their choice and one the same ballot indicate by name the individual they prefer for president. Final decision on entering Mr. Roosevelt's name in Ohio has not been reached. But his advisers believe his name will not be missing when Ohio polls.

The "Stop Roosevelt" movement appears to lack aggressive Democratic leadership in Ohio. At least no statements have arisen there to challenge Mr. Roosevelt as he has been challenged in New York, Massachusetts, Georgia, Louisiana and California. Alfred E. Smith probably will bring White House-Tammany relations to showdown in New York City.

Smith is expected to seek election to the Democratic national convention as a district delegate. If Tammany accepts Smith—a wigwag sachen—as one of its candidates the war will be on between Mr. Roosevelt and Manhattan political organization. The New York primary is April 7.

Former Gov. Joseph B. Ely will lead the Democratic Anti-New Deal crusade in Massachusetts. Ely has proposed dispatch of an untrained delegation to the Democratic National convention. Talmadge Muzzled?—BF

Gov. Eugene Talmadge is encountering difficulty in his effort to kidnap Georgia from the New Deal. The Georgia congressional delegation is bucking the governor and the larger newspapers of the state are beginning to fire at will on the young rebel. New Dealers are confident they can handle Talmadge.

The Louisiana Democratic organization still is counted outside the New Deal fold despite reports of peace talk on the delta. The latest threat of a bolt came from California. Upton Sinclair's Epic—end poverty in California—party still controls the California Democratic organization. Sinclair took charge in 1934 when he won the Democratic nomination for governor.

Rev. Geistweit denied that he made the charges at the convention of Ohio Pastors in Columbus, where he presided, declaring he merely read a newspaper account of statements made last spring by an Akron legislator.

DAVEY SLASHES THREE MILLIONS OFF MONEY BILL

Governor Says Serious Financial Problems to Face State
During Year

DEFICIT IS ANTICIPATED

Economy Only Solution; Relief
Pensions, Security Funds
Needed

COLUMBUS, Feb. 7.—(UP)—Governor Davey has vetoed more than $3,000,000 out of the $90,213,157 new appropriation bill for 1936, he announced today.

"This has not been done in any whimsical or petulant mood, but for most serious reasons that face the state," the governor said. He explained that the vetoes were necessary if the state is to have sufficient funds to provide for its necessary financial needs including old pensions and relief.

Far Over Revenue

If social security legislation now pending in the senate is finally enacted he said the total expense of government would probably be $3,000,000 in excess of anticipated revenues.

"If I had not kept the screws down tight last year and saved $7,000,000 cash in the bank," he said, "the state would right now be in a serious situation because of the $7,000,000 definitely earmarked for relief and the additional millions required for old age pensions."

The governor said he is still definitely opposed to new taxes if they can be avoided.

"I believe this can be done if we follow the same course of economy with resolute purpose," he added.

Including his vetoes in the original appropriations bill the governor said that his cutting of the new bill brings to approximately $10,000,000 the amount he has saved by the veto power.

The governor did not make public the items vetoed because he has not yet completed his work on the bill. He has until midnight tomorrow to sign and file the bill.

The first appropriations bill totaled $97,657,653, of which the governor deleted items totalling $8,785,658, leaving $88,871,995.

But because he had vetoed items providing for many essential services, and there was no legal authority for restoring these items, a new bill was necessary. The legislature after months of wrangling finally passed a bill carrying $90,213,157, which did not take into consideration $1,793,554 provided for in other special bills.

Giant Airplane With Six-Hour Flight With Fierce Southern Sleet Storm

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 7.—(UP)—A giant air liner and the worst sleet storm of the winter fought a six hour duel over two states last night.

The plane won. If it had lost, six persons probably would have been killed.

The passengers were: C. T. Hubbell, Albany, N. Y. Mrs. Charles Fettech, New York City.

Dr. Joseph Weinred, Jacksonville, Fla. B. F. Kenny, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The crew: Pilot Freddie Cann. Bob Minnick, Atlanta, Ga., co-pilot.

Riding a beam of the Pensacola light house, Pilot Cann brought his two-motored eastern air lines ship down safely on a water-covered field. He was white-faced, tense. He had battled the storm north from Jacksonville to Charlestown, S. C., back to Jacksonville, then across Florida to Pensacola. He landed with enough gasoline for less than an hour of flying.

Officials Hear Voices

The flight was almost as agonizing for air line officials and short wave radio officers. For two hours they heard Cann's and Minnick's voices breaking across crackling static demanding directions and confirming instructions.

Then, suddenly, the radio went dead and tragedy seemed certain. A few minutes later RCA's Palm Beach station flashed this message to ships at sea:

"Eastern airlines reports ship 34 lost off coast northern Florida or southern Georgia. Have no position but is over water and gas running low. Please be on lookout and report to this station."

Meanwhile, Pilot Cann, his radio dead and his visibility zero, had had recourse to desperation. He had turned his plane westward, hoping to reach the outskirts of the storm. The beam of the light house cut across the night just as he was about to cut in his emergency fuel supply—enough for almost an hour of flying.

The plane was bound north for Newark from Miami. When he reached Jacksonville, weather reports indicated the storm as closing in, but Cann thought he could make Charlestown. He took off at 5:20 p. m. yesterday.

En route the storm reached the plane, encircling it with swirling, powdery snow and sleet. Over the

MRS. MAGRUDER TO KEEP POST?

Oberlin Woman Voted Confidence of State Board

COLUMBUS, Feb. 7.—(UP)—Mrs. Luetta Magruder of Oberlin, whose resignation as head of the state charities division was asked by Governor Davey, today had a vote of confidence from the charities division advisory board.

The board endorsed Mrs. Magruder's order to trustees of the Lorain county children's home that at least two social workers must be employed at the home instead of one.

The governor had termed Mrs. Magruder's action a "violation of a governmental principle." She refused to resign.

Mrs. Magruder today declined to comment on reports that she would be permitted to retain her position. After a conference with the governor yesterday, she said, smilingly, that any further statement would come from the governor's office.

The governor also declined to comment, saying he was "too busy with the appropriations bill to act on any other matter at this time."

KEARNEY, Mo., Feb. 7.—(UP)—Zenon F. Milburn, 89, estranged from his 22-year-old wife, today shot and killed her stepfather, Jacob Fiscus, 60.

Fiscus was slain with a shotgun. Milburn was sitting complacently by the body when Marshal Joseph Thompson of Kearney arrived to arrest him.

"I had to do it," Milburn told Thompson. He said the shooting climaxed several days of quarreling over financial matters.

The "May and December" marriage of Milburn and the former Miss Ezora Thomas foundered within a few months. Mrs. Milburn went to live with relatives in Independence. A son born to her after the separation will be a year old in April.

Fiscus and his wife, leaving their daughter in Independence, moved to the Milburn home last November. Neighbors said the household was disturbed frequently by disputes.

Almost all kinds of stewing or boiling should be done with the gas burner turned low; the results will be better. Rapid cooking often spoils food. The proper method is to start the boiling over a single burner with full flame, and when the boiling point is reached turn the flame very low, or transfer the utensil to the simmerer, if you have one.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR NATURAL "BULK"

Needed to Correct Constipation*

Most people recognize the seriousness of constipation. But too often they dose themselves with strong cathartics that often actually lead to chronic constipation.

The natural way to check common constipation is to correct the condition which causes it—usually, insufficient "bulk" in meals.

How can you get "bulk"? Fruits and vegetables have some. Bran has more. The most popular product of this kind is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

This delicious cereal is a wholesome food. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk." If not relieved, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN gives you gentle internal exercise. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LUTHERAN MEN ENJOY EVENING OF MERRIMENT

George Griffith in Charge of Entertaining Program;
Plan Birthday Fete

Another outstanding session of Trinity Lutheran Brotherhood is history, the first semi-monthly meeting for February having been held in the parish house last evening.

The meeting was opened by the singing of the "Brotherhood Song," after which Rev. G. L. Troutman read the First Psalm and offered the prayer. This being followed by the entire brotherhood singing "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

The business session was brief, immediately after which M. R. Klingensmith and his committee of eight members served sauerkraut, weiners and coffee.

Meeting again called to order, George C. Griffith was introduced as director of the evening's entertainment, which was a novelty program and was put on without any previous preparation.

The first number was a Race Track skit, the parts being taken by Mr. Griffith, Carl C. Leist and H. E. Betz, Mr. Betz giving the betting tips, which in each instance proved disastrous to those putting up the stakes. The skit was realistic and created much mirth.

"Family Troubles"

"Family Troubles" was the subject of the next number, the actors being Charles Weidinger, as Mrs. Backbiter; Charles L. Mack as her much abused husband and Luther Bower as the lie-detector salesman, who duped Mrs. Backbiter into buying one of his contraptions in order that she might test out the truthfulness of her husband, which in turn proved to be her undoing. This number was exceptionally interesting and all parts were well characterized.

"The Music Goes 'Round and Round" furnished the basis for the next skit; E. E. Wolf taking the part of Prof. DeWolfe, with the various scenes being: the office of one of the biggest horse importers in the country; the city leading insurance agency; the P. W. A. Rural Sanitation Office and the office of a big lumber broker, the leading parts in each of these scenes being taken by E. E. Wolf, J. D. Hummel, Frank H. Palm and M. R. Klingensmith.

Mr. Wolfe as the horse broker turns musical, goes abroad to complete his musical training, returns to this country and sets up a studio in the Old Coliseum, formerly his place while in business of years before. His novel advertisement, which in his wily way he succeeded in inserting in the society columns of the local papers, attracted Hummel, Palm and Klingensmith, all of whom have always desired to be musical and who in turn apply to Prof. DeWolfe's studio and finally decide on taking the "Three Lesson Course," guaranteed to make them accomplished musicians.

The climax of this novelty number was the manner in which Mr. DeWolfe imparted musical knowledge to these unschooled applicants, and of their ability to thoroughly understand after but one period of instruction.

Carl C. Palm delightfully entertained with his novelty piano music.

A very realistic scene from real life was next presented, the location being the Circleville Police Station; William McCrady playing the role of Chief of Police; C. W. Helvering the sergeant and Gladden Troutman the culprit. Every part in this little drama was exceptionally well characterized.

Work Trial Held

The final number of the program was a mock trial. This trial was based on a real automobile accident that occurred at North ridge road, about two and one-half years ago, fictitious names being used instead of names of the real persons implicated.

E. C. Ebert took the part of the plaintiff in the case, with Carl C. Leist as his attorney; George Himrod as defendant, with George

Griffith as his attorney; with M. R. Klingensmith a S. Bloomfield garageman as the only witness for the plaintiff, and Roy Stout, a N. Court-st resident, as the only witness for the defense. J. D. Hummel sat as judge and the entire brotherhood served as the jury.

After the arguments were made by both the plaintiff's and defendants attorneys and the charge was delivered by the judge, the case was submitted the jury and the ballot showed one lone member, voting exactly as the Common Pleas Court of this county decided the case.

So down into the records goes another outstanding meeting of Trinity Brotherhood.

The next session will be held on February 20 and will be a Washington-Lincoln Birthday party in charge of J. D. Hummel.

CIRCLEVILLE COUNCIL

OFFICIALS: The financial difficulty in which you find yourselves is indeed disheartening. There is little you can do about it except watch your nickles and dimes and be careful of every expenditure you make. Your recent action in settling long unpaid accounts with merchants physicians, funeral directors and others is to be commended even though it did reduce the city treasury to less than $200. Employees must do the best they can to make ends meet. It is a situation in which many Ohio cities have found themselves in the last several years, but you must put your shoulders to the wheel to do the best you can under the circumstances.

TO AUTOISTS

FRIENDS: The first red pin, designating a traffic death, was placed on the county accident map in the sheriff's office this week. Last year 16 persons lost their lives in highway accidents in this county and scores were injured. Drive carefully, obey highway rules and help to keep the highway toll for 1936 small.

BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION

WORKERS: I commend you on your work during the last year. You and your reliable corps of officers deserve praise for the way you took care of your share of the needy. I know that during the coming year, having re-elected Mrs. B. T. Hedges, your capable president, and most of your other officers, the organization will continue its splendid work.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

America's prison problem is becoming steadily worse. There are more prisoners now than ever in the nation's history—1935 having boasted the total by an alarming figure.

Penologists say that Americans approach the problem with the wrong attitude. Instead of getting at the causes of crime, Americans raise a hysterical cry to convict people. And when the people are convicted there is a sadistic tendency to force dire punishments on them. Thus, bitterness against society rises, and crime increases.

Devil's islands, such as Alcatraz in San Francisco harbor, with their complete isolation, simply enrage and craze men—as observe the recent uprising. The federal government suppressed all the facts concerning that "strike," but enough leaked out for one to envisage the futility that exists there, and the harsh measures that are used to put down the protests. Perhaps it would be better to execute men at once rather than to submit them to horrible punishments.

Nor have chain gangs and sweat boxes (torture chambers) been wiped out. More prisoners ever suffer their torture in the south.

When 20 negro prisoners, locked in a cage on wheels on which they are moved from place to place, burned to death recently in the south, there was hardly a murmur. The horror of it all is that such tragic conditions are taken for granted now.

LASH
In Canada recently some prisoners complained. They were "quilted" with the lash.

And a 20-year-old inmate on trial for a recent outbreak in the Massachusetts state prison at Charlestown told of a "blue room" where men are kept on bread and water for 10 days at a time.

At best, prison diet is insufficient to keep a man in health, especially young men, who need plenty of tissue-building food.

All this in the year 1936!

SOVIET SYSTEM
Some American penologists would like to try the Soviet prison system in the United States.

you on your efforts and enthusiasm in the membership contest conducted the last three months during which this group of young people joined your league. The attendance of 82 at your February meeting far exceeds your former average attendance of 35 and 40 at monthly meetings. I hope your organization remains as active since your contest has closed, and continues to grow. I wish you success in the presentation of your play, Feb. 24 and 25.

CIRCUITEER.

CITY OFFICIALS

GENTLEMEN: Circleville has an ordinance requiring residents to clear their sidewalks of snow and ice. Forget the fear of making "someone mad" and enforce the law. Some residents are too "lazy" to clear their own walks and too "tight" to give a needy laborer the price of a loaf of bread to shovel their snow. If you think you will make some residents mad by assessing them a fine, how do you imagine residents of the street feel when they do the "highland fling" over those icy walks several times a day. I would suggest you read up on the ordinance and take some action.

TO F. O. E. LEADERS

EAGLES: Your donation of $5 to purchase feed for game birds, left with little or no nourishment as a result of the heavy snow blanket, is timely, and well received by county sportsmen. Reports have come from many parts of the state concerning loss of game bird life because of lack of food. Clarence Francis and the sportsman's association will see that proper food is obtained and distributed in the right places. It is actions of this sort that assures the continued success of your organization.

TO "RUMOR" SPREADERS

GOSSIPERS: It has been called to my attention that many of the recent reports concerning deaths of local residents have been started by a group of men who gather in a local restaurant to discuss the doings of the day. There are few things more malicious and more ungentlemanly than starting a rumor concerning someone's death. At least three times in the last month it has been necessary that a careful check be made to determine veracity of such reports. Persons responsible are apparently unaware of the law concerning such activities. There is a drastic penalty against a person convicted of starting and spreading false rumors.

With All My Heart

BY SARA CHRISTY
Copyright 1935 by JOHN H. HOPKINS & SON—RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

READ THIS FIRST:
Thora Dahl, alone in New York, is seeking a position through an employment agency. She obtains the address in the country, of Selwyn Marsh, an eccentric gentleman, seeking a housekeeper. Taking a train to Brookville, Thora walks to Fair Acres and reaches the Marsh home. Thora meets Marsh and he agrees to give her a trial. She is to replace a Mrs. Myron who is going on a long vacation. Mrs. Myron cautions Thora about losing her head over Marsh, a widower.
(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

"I SAID YOU were sensible," Mrs. Myron answered complacently when Thora insisted there was no danger of her losing her head over Selwyn Marsh. "It's exactly what I meant. In the first place, it wouldn't do you a mite of good. And you know I told you that no woman ever could put up with him—that is, if she was tied to him. I know what I'm talking about. And now, suppose I show you around."

For some reason, Mrs. Myron appeared to think there was no question but that Thora would relieve her of her duties in the very near future. She was planning to go west, to visit a niece for a time, and clearly was anxious to be on her way. For the present, Thora would occupy a pleasant bedroom at the rear of the house. Eventually, she would move across the hall into the housekeeper's suite which boasted a small sitting room and private bath.

The new candidate was much pleased with the interior of the house. It was roomy and furnished everywhere in excellent taste. Mrs. Myron made a thorough-going conductor, exhibiting all the apartments, bed and linen supplies, keeping up a running fire of informative details.

Katie would make up her own menus, but Thora would do all the ordering of supplies and check the bills. Mr. Marsh seldom questioned expenditures, but he insisted upon accounts being kept in orderly fashion and was quick to pounce upon any discrepancies. Ted, the boy, or the Pat would be ready at any time to operate the vacuum cleaner, wash windows and do any task too heavy for the maids. One of the latter attended to the upstairs work for the most part. That was Nellie. Her companion, Jane, tidied the lower floor, served in the dining room, or assisted Katie in the kitchen if needed.

"They're pretty good girls," Mrs. Myron admitted. "But you have to keep right after them all the time." Both Nellie and Jane were encountered during the tour, and made acquainted with their new superior. Each made civil return to Thora's friendly greeting and stared.

Katie Donahue, the ample-bosomed Irish cook, was more effusive when Thora was inducted into her shining domain.

"Sure, Miss Dahl, we'll be getting along fine together," was her decision, after a candid gaze at the newcomer. "And if Pat—he's me old man—goes givin' you any of his lip, leave him to me."

Thora did not encounter Mr. Marsh again, but she repeated the promise to Mrs. Myron that she would report for duty the following morning. The two of them were standing on the veranda as Thora explained, once

"I don't think that anything will happen before tomorrow. I mean, William's getting home. But if she should—watch out a little for Dotie Steele. You'll know what I mean as soon as you see her. Good-by until morning."

Thora hoped fervently that Mrs. Steele's arrival might be delayed until she had an opportunity to converse further with that odd little housekeeper. Every mention of Mrs.

Steele deepened her feeling of uneasiness. For a neighbor, "Dotie" seemed to exert a recognized influence over the Marsh household. It had been indicated by Mr. Marsh's casual reference to the "forks," as well as by Mrs. Myron's more pointed remarks.

Preparations for leaving the city were simple and occupied little of Thora's time. She had thought of calling upon Miss Taggart and telling her that she had secured the position at Fair Acres, but concluded it might be better to wait and see what happened. If everything went all right, she could drop Miss Taggart a line . . . repeat the offer of a fee. On the other hand, she might have to report a fate similar to that of the other applicants. Unless Mr. Marsh would furnish her with a reference.

She laughed to herself at the absurdity of that notion. In order to divert her mind from tomorrow and its possibilities, she decided to treat herself to a gallery seat at the movies. At least, she had some prospects now. It gave her a slightly reckless feeling.

When the housekeeper-elect alighted from the train at Brookville the following morning, her alert blue eyes fell upon a youth lounging against the station wall, his hands in his pockets. He came forward at once, clutching off his cap, and Thora recognized him as the boy who had offered her a ride.

"Are you Miss Dahl?"
"Yes. . . And you must be Ted."
"Yeah. The boss sent me over to get you and your things. Mind if you ride in the truck? You didn't want to yesterday," he grinned.

"That was because you forgot to tell me that you were going to Mr. Marsh's," Thora laughed.
"Didn't your trunk come?" Ted was looking about inquiringly.
"I've nothing but these two bags."
"Okay. Let's have 'em."

SMART TEAM WORK

OSWALD JACOBY has won so many trophies that mere play may have become a bit boring to him at times. In any event he offered a team-of-four trophy for contest of Knickerbocker Whist club members only. Hand 33 in the first session is given below. I sat North, as dealer, opposed by the tough pair of Charles S. Lochridge, sitting West, and John Rau, sitting East. Their partners who occupied North and South positions were Waldemar von Zedtwitz and Edward Hynes, Jr., also as able a pair as anyone might wish to meet.

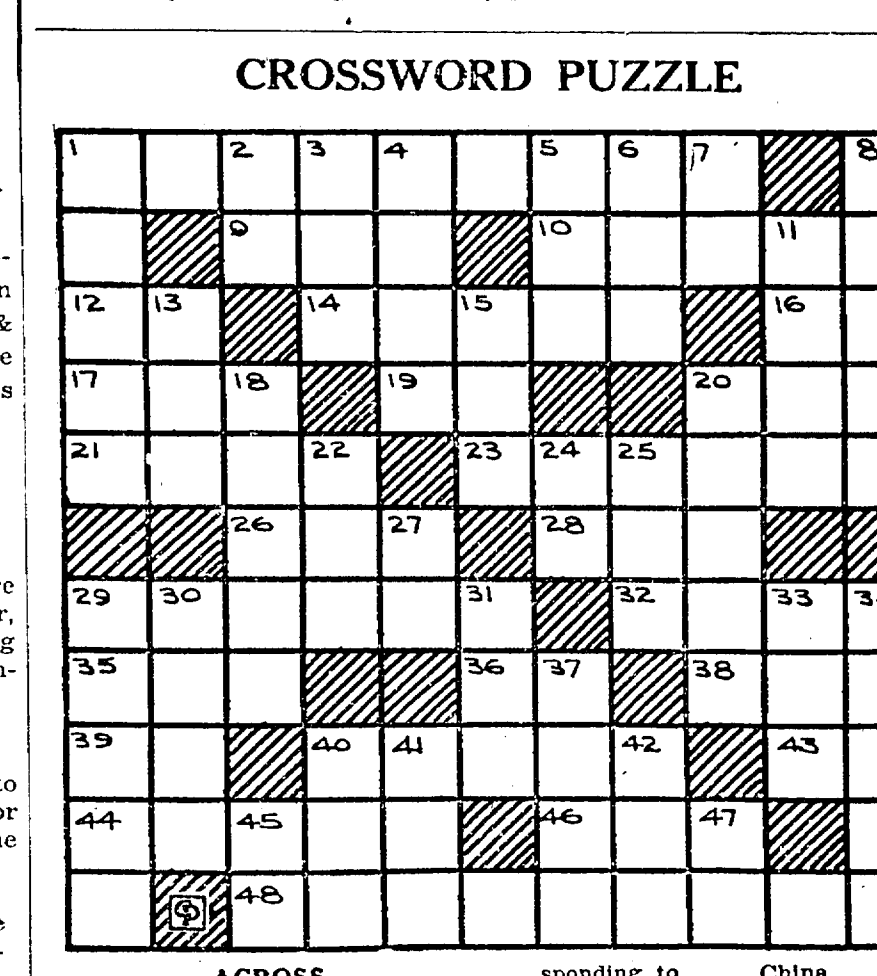

The hand may be played in many ways for a grand slam. One way is as follows: Having won the first trick in his own hand, declarer may ruff one of his hearts. The natural thing is then to lead the Ace of diamonds and discard either a club or a heart. The fall of the J, North, calls for a lead of a low diamond and a ruff by declarer. The fall of the K leaves diamonds established in dummy. Lead the Q of spades. Even if declarer finds the K of trumps in North's hand he will fulfill his contract. Picking up the K of spades from South's hand makes the simplest sort of lay-down for a grand slam, or one trick above contract.

At our table bidding went: North, 1-Club; East, 1-Heart; West, 3-Diamonds, a strong force; East, 3-Spades, to show his inferior suit; West, 4-Clubs, to show no losers in my suit; East, 4-Heart; West, 6-Spades. The adverse bidding was beautiful.

Even if declarer's partner had shown no club losers, my partner, Mr. Noble, felt it best to lead his Q of that suit, each other suit having been bid by the declaring side. Dou-

South is declarer. Spades are trumps. The opening lead is the K of clubs. Before tomorrow see how many tricks South can win against the best subsequent defense.

Simple Patches Make Pansy Quilt

PATTERN 5264

Pansies, whose velvety softness holds so much appeal for young and old, are the inspiration of a colorful quilt which you can do quickly in applique. Simple in form—the entire flower one piece—the patches are easy to apply. It's a grand way to use up scraps, for each flower may be of different color. Then, with easy outline stitch, embroider flower edges and center markings for a very lifelike effect. Tones of yellow and purple will make it realistic.

In pattern 5264 you will find the Block Chart, an illustration for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with yardage chart, diagram of quilt to help arrange the blocks for single and double bed size, and a diagram of block which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggests contrasting materials.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Herald Household Arts Dept., 210 N. Court-st, Circleville, O.

About This And That In Many Sports

WHAT OF TOURNAMENT?
Can you name the probable winner of the county basketball tournament?—Many will say Ashville, others will say New Holland, while Williamsport, Scioto-twp and Monroe-twp all have their supporters—Ashville's victory over New Holland on the west-county court boosts the backers of the Kaubermen ***

BOTH SUFFER LOSSES
The outstanding teams, as we see it, are Ashville and New Holland, although surprises are possible, and probable in the county meet—Both these teams have suffered blows that may hurt. Ashville has lost Henry Steinbrook as fine a guard as there is in the county through too many semesters in school, and Chuck Ater, battling New Holland guard, has turned in his uniform—Bet your nickles Ater will be in the lineup for the tournament ***

Babb Likes Work
Selection of Kroger Babb as tournament referee is popular in most parts of the county—Babb will be working his third county tourney and there has never been argument in either—The Wilmington official is one of those boys who insist they be given free rein over the doings on the floor—He does not like to work with another whistle-blower, claiming too many referees spoil the ball game ***

CARNERA LEAVES IL DUCE
Primo Carnera finds fighting in the United States is preferable to gunning in Ethiopia—Da Preem was in Mussolini's army long enough for medics to discover he had satchel feet or something like that, whereupon he was excused—He started right back for Uncle Sam's land to carry on his private war at a little more profit than under Il Duce ***

HASSETT TO NEWARK
Columbus Red Birds can put it into their little green book that Bud Hassett will not do any first basing on the Mount-st greensward this summer—The Yankees have sent Hassett to the Newark farm—He'll probably die a minor leaguer if he waits to take Lou Gehrig's place on the initial hassock ***

LORD BALTIMORE

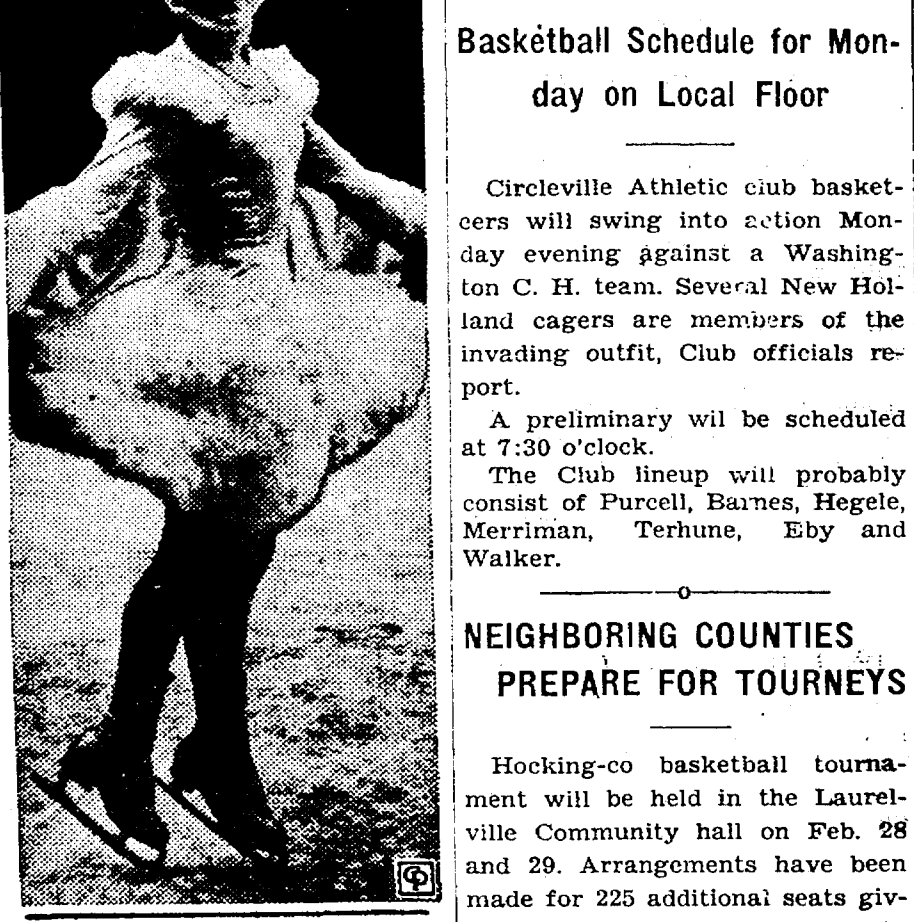

Lou Riggs Helps Reds Leave Coal-Hole

CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.—Showing his gratitude for being purchased out of slavery in the St. Louis Cardinals' chain gang, Lou Riggs has helped the lowly Reds to fight their way out of the cellar and find a place in the sun.

The story of third baseman Riggs, who faces his sophomore year in the majors with promise of a brilliant career ahead, might be like that of many others in the Cardinals' organization had it not been for Larry MacPhail, general manager of the Reds.

It's Just Too Bad!
Riggs, a star in the minors, still was not deemed good enough to supplant Pepper Martin at third base for the Cards. There are many others in the minors today, who might be major leaguers but for the fact that they are Cardinals' property and must go playing in the bushes until established stars on the St. Louis team were.

That's their hard luck.

A shipment of 50 mattresses from Wilmington for distribution through the County Centralized relief agency was expected to arrive at the warehouse Friday. D. H. Marcy, supervisor, announced. Surplus commodities allotted to the agency so far have been canned meat, milk and clothing made by the local WPA sewing project. A shipment of comforts expected in the near future, Mr. Marcy stated.

Pickaway-co office of the National Reemployment Service has scores of registrants' cards in its files. In a general way, the combined talents of this group of the citizenry extend over a wide range of agricultural, industrial and mercantile endeavor.

Despite this, the local NRS staff occasionally experiences difficulty locating a person whose qualifications meet the requirements outlined by private industry seeking workers. When no qualified applicant is available in this county or in neighboring ones, an appeal for assistance is made to the state headquarters office in Columbus. All specifications are set forth in a bulletin which is dispatched to other offices in the state.

Ordinarily, an applicant with the necessary qualifications is located quickly and he is referred immediately thereafter to the prospective employer.
